Transportation Committee

- 2017, 2013 Outstanding Service Award, Transportation Research Board recognition for outstanding service to the Health and Transportation Subcommittee
- 2016 Faculty Excellence Award in Research and Creative Activities, College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado Denver
- 2008 Frisen Fellow for Outstanding Service in Teaching and Mentoring Undergraduates

Research and Publications

My research focuses on how the design and management of transportation and land use systems can improve health, safety, and environmental outcomes.

Research Support

Proposals for External Funding: In Preparation

2018 Co-Principal Investigator (with Meng Li), “Behavioral Insights into Metered Parking” In preparation for National Science Foundation (SBE).

External Awards

2017–2018 Co-Principal Investigator (with Meng Li), “Testing Irrationality in Metered Parking Payment Compliance” Mountain Plains Consortium University Transportation Center, 2017–2018, ($60,000, excluding internal match)

2015–2017 Principal Investigator, “Effects of Infill Development and Regional Growth on At-Risk Populations’ Exposure to Traffic Density” Mountain Plains Consortium University Transportation Center, 2015–2017, ($60,000, excluding internal match)

2014–2017 Co-Principal Investigator (with Wesley Marshall, Krista Nordback, and Bruce Janson), “Why Are Bike-Friendly Cities Safer for All Road Users?” Mountain Plains Consortium University Transportation Center, ($146,991 excluding internal match)

2014–2015 Co-Principal Investigator (with Jill Litt), “Walk and Wheel Initiative Evaluation.” Kaiser Permanente Colorado Community Benefit, ($99,174)

2013–2015 Co-Principal Investigator (with Wesley Marshall), “Livable Arterials” Mountain Plains Consortium University Transportation Center Grant, ($80,916, excluding internal match)

2012–2013 Principal Investigator, Colorado Center for Community Development, LiveWell Colorado project in the Westwood neighborhood in Denver, Colorado, ($178,891); Lois Brink PI (2009-2011)

2012–2013 Principal Investigator, Colorado Center for Community Development, LiveWell Colorado project in the Globeville-Elyria-Swansea neighborhood in Denver, Colorado, ($183,418)

Internal Awards

2017–2018 Co-Principal Investigator (with Meng Li), “CRC (Creative Research Collaborative) Faculty Interdisciplinary Fellowship,” University of Colorado Denver Office of Research Services ($4,000)

2016–2017 Principal Investigator, “The Effectiveness of Activism in Addressing Transportation’s Public Health Impacts,” University of Colorado YUMPS/Departmental. ($1,000)
